Dawson: Before the Washington and Union L. Societies of Washington College, Delivered on Wednesday Evening, June 18th, 1856 Members of (lie Union and Washington Literary Societies, And Ladies and Gentlemen: It is with a pleasure which I feel at a loss for fitting terms to express, that I am here this evening, in obedience to the partial summons of your Societies. Forgetful, indeed, must I have proven of those high benefits to which I confess myself beholden, - of the privileges of culture and discipline which I have here enjoyed, could I have failed to respond to that call! But with pleasing facility does the memory glide back to bye-gone days; and visions of all that can charm the fancy or fire the young imagination, - that can give strength and beauty to mental effort, - that can stimulate with generous ambition the heart of youth, - throng unbidden upon me as I stand here in your presence, and remind me of the source of whatever I have attained of success, - of many of the most agreeable enjoyments of my life; and of the obligations, which, as an Alumnus of your flourishing Institution, I am under to cherish her fair fame. My mind is thus carried back to the days of my college life with feelings of tender regret, to the warm-hearted and aspiring companions of my boyhood, some of whom have since climbed to honorable distinction, others are still struggling in the active and rushing currents of life, - and many of whom, alas! have been gathered to the grave. I think of the earnest task and...
