

Fintry - Lives, Loves and Dreams: The Story of a Unique Okanagan Landmark

By Stan Sauerwein

Trafford Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 204 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.4in. Fintry - Lives, Loves and Dreams chronicles the memorable people, the secret loves and the engaging history of the Shorts Creek delta. Containing visitor maps, photographs and interesting anecdotes, this readable account covers Fintry from pre-history to the present. It follows a trail of dreams through Fintry's incarnations as an enigmatic millionaire's private estate and school for orphans, to the grand plans for an international resort. Media reviews Millennium book project captures Fintry's history from the Capital News (Kelowna), Wednesday October 11, 2000 (A18-A19) by Judy Steeves, Staff Reporter. A verdant delta of flat land created by the rushing waters of a little creek has acted as a magnet over the decades, attracting stubborn people with dreams that inevitably are smashed before they leave. Fintry, a 360-hectare plot of Westside lakeshore, waterfall, canyon and upland wilderness, was purchased in 1995 by the Central Okanagan Regional District and province as parkland for 7.68 million. Public ownership was the culmination of nearly two centuries of a parade of white men's private visions for this isolated point of land jutting into Okanagan Lake, following an unknown length of...

This book is definitely worth acquiring. I have gone through and so I am certain that I will likely read through again in the future. It's been printed in an exceptionally basic way in fact it is only after I finished reading this publication in which actually altered me, change the way in my opinion.
