

The Elderly in Urban Indian Families: Conflict in Solidarity

By Sunanda Rabindranathan

B.R. Publishing Corporation, New Delhi, India, 2006. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. Dust Jacket Condition: New. In the coming years, the elderly population in India will grow phenomenally. At the same time the Family size is reducing, more so in urban areas. Due to housing shortage and an increase in the number of women joining the labour force, an increasing number of elderly people are beginning to share residence with their adult children. Interactions are a natural consequence, which may give rise to conflict situation in the family. This book develops a taxonomy of conflicts arising out of these interactions and examines the issues of conflict in economically sound contemporary urban families. The resolution of some of these conflicts has also been delved into. Besides highlighting a social dimension to the problem of ageing, a new will be of relevance to any reader interested in knowing about the consequences of Changes in the structure of contemporary urban families in India. CONTENTS: 1. Introduction 2. Sociology of Ageing 3. Urban Family Conflicts and the Elderly 4. Resolving Conflicts 5. Conclusion Printed Pages: 140.

READ ONLINE
[ 3.31 MB ]

Reviews

This publication may be really worth a go through, and a lot better than other. It really is written in simple terms and never difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Natalie Abbott

This book will not be simple to get going on reading but extremely exciting to read through. Yes, it can be play, still an interesting and amazing literature. I am very easily could possibly get a delight of reading a written book.

-- Rene Olson