The Philosophy Club held on Thursday, February 6th, its semi-annual election of officers with the following result: President, J. T. Allen, 02; Vice-President, J. Kohn, 02; Secretary, H. Lasker, 03; Treasurer, H. S. Lyon, 02; and Member-at-Large, Dr. Shaw. After this followed the regular programme. The philosopher of the evening was David Hume, and was the subject of three essays. The first paper was a brief account of Hume's life and an analysis of his ethical tenets by G. Brayden, 03. Mr. Brayden explained that Hume makes not reason, but experience and feeling the basis of the moral standard. J. T. Allen, 02, then addressed the meeting on Hume's Idea of Necessary Connection, bringing out the point that Hume denies that this idea springs from reason, making experience its only source. The third reading, Hume's Criticism of Natural Religion. was postponed because...
