The novelist-critic Takami Jun describes it as a rare jewel among masterpieces of modern literature. The novel reveals how the family system of Meiji Japan (1868-1912) leads to an exploitation of the women and treats various problems which the protagonist Tomo Shirakawa faces. The role of the concubines provides a profound double structure. The novel is a fictional transfor-mation of Enchis grandmother Ines painful life who endured a polygynous marriage with a man from a samurai family. The protagonists suffering and pain expresses Enchis own pro-test against the system and the maltreatment of women. First published in pieces in journals, it came out in a book form in 1957. During that time women were resisting the government to reintroduce the traditional Japanese family system. Enchi published several critical novels in the late 1960s criticizing the patriarchal social order. The novel won the Noma Literary Prize, one of Japans most prestigious literary awards. Usually the prize is only given to one work, but in 1957 it was awarded jointly to this novel and to Uno Chiyos Ohan, which glorifies womens submissiveness to her husband as a true feminine virtue. In this way, women opposing the ie system and men supporting it should both be pleased. To understand the situation of Japanese women during the Meiji period it is necessary to ana-lyze mens behavior and to reveal the political and historical background. Therefore,...
