Thomas Frederick Davis, D. D: Late Bishop of the Diocese of South Carolina, Preached 10th of December, 1871, in Grace Church, Camden But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God. - Acts xx, 24. Saint Paul, whose words these are, is taking leave of the Ephesian elders, on his way to Jerusalem, where bonds and imprisonment await him. At the seaport, ready to depart, he had sent for them, and now, as they assembled, every eye was fixed on him, every ear was open to catch and dwell upon his farewell charge. And when he had spoken it, we read: He kneeled down and prayed with them all. And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul s neck and kissed him, sorrowing, most of all, for the words which he spake,...
